

Right to Information Act - 2005

The Parliament of India has enacted the Right to Information Act, 2005 (<https://www.persmin.gov.in>) which has come into effect from October 13, 2005. The Right to Information under this Act is meant to give to the citizens of India access to information under control of public authorities to promote transparency and accountability in these organisations. The Act, under Sections 8 and 9, provides for certain categories of information to be exempt from disclosure. The Act also provides for appointment of a Central Public Information Officer to deal with requests for information.

DICGC's Obligation under the Act

The Deposit Insurance and Credit Guarantee Corporation (DICGC) is a public authority as defined in the Right to Information Act, 2005. As such, DICGC is obliged to provide information to members of public.

Seeking Information from DICGC

The Deposit Insurance and Credit Guarantee Corporation has an established communication policy. Under this, DICGC regularly releases information and data on various aspects relating to Deposit Insurance through public domain. The information and data routinely released by the DICGC are available on its website (www.dicgc.org.in)

The details of information that is already available from the DICGC are:

Annual Report

The annual report of the DICGC is the most important document released every year. It is the report of the Board of Directors on the working of the Corporation and on the balance sheet and accounts of the Corporation. The annual report is a statutory document relating to the financial year of DICGC (April to March) and is released in July/August.

Brochures

DICGC forwards a booklet on deposit insurance and a copy of a poster to all banks when they are registered. The booklet is forwarded to familiarize the depositor with necessary assurance regarding safety and security of their deposit with the bank. The booklet on deposit insurance is to be made available to the depositors and the poster is to be displayed prominently in the premises of every branch. DICGC maintains an active website (URL: <http://www.dicgc.org.in>). All the information released by the Corporation is also simultaneously made available on the website. The site is updated on a regular basis. In keeping with its objective of bringing in greater transparency in its decision-making process, the Corporation is committed to releasing more information in public domain.
